

The Adventures of Luna the Cat

THE ADVENTURES

LUNA
THE CAT

With bright green eyes, Luna peeked around,
A hidden garden she had found!
Colors danced in the gentle breeze, Flowers whispered, "Come play, please!"

Luna tiptoed in with a curious gaze, And there stood Rose, in a sunny haze.
"Welcome, dear Luna," Rose gently said, "Join us in the garden, where magic is spread!"

Sunny the sunflower, with petals so bright, Joined Luna and Rose with pure delight. "Why did the sun go to school?" Sunny asked with glee, "To get a little brighter, you see!" Laughter danced through the garden so wide, As Sunny, Luna, and Rose laughed side by side.

Dark clouds rolled in, oh so high, Luna looked up with a worried sigh. "Oh dear, oh dear," said Rose with a frown, "Will the storm make our petals fall down?" Sunny nodded, feeling the breeze, "Let's work together, everyone, please!" With courage and care, they hatched a plan, To keep the garden cheerful, as best as they can.

Under the big, leafy tree, Luna stood tall, Gathering flowers, she called to them all.
"Stay close, my friends, we'll be alright, I'll keep you safe through the stormy night."
Rose and Sunny snuggled near, Together they laughed, chasing away fear.

When the storm had gone away, The garden danced in bright array. Luna smiled, her heart so light, The flowers twirled in the sunny sight. "Thank you, Luna!" Rose did sing, While Sunny spun with a joyful spring. Together they laughed, beneath the sun, A happy ending, for everyone!

In the garden, warm and bright, Luna rests with pure delight. Rose whispers, "What a day!" Sunny giggles, "Hip, hooray!" Petals sway, a gentle song, Friendship here is ever strong.
